Quotes: "The voice is a powerful instrument. I grew up as the oldest of nine in a small suburb of Cleveland, OH, and if I learned anything in my big family, it's that you have to speak up in order for your voice to be heard. That's exactly how I feel about our world. It's so noisy! There are so many "voices" that call for our attention, but the one voice that's never truly leaned into is the voice of God. God's voice is true, good, and beautiful, and His voice is more real and more powerful than any voice we hear. My mission is to sing music that helps people encounter the voice of God who brings hope and healing."

Old Bio:

With a heart full of music and a voice full of praise, Taylor Tripodi is on a mission to put people in an encounter with truth, goodness, and the beauty. Originally from Cleveland, OH, Taylor graduated from Franciscan University with a Theology degree and, after doing youth ministry for 2 years, is now a full time singer-songwriter, and worship leader now based out of Nashville, TN. Her music has led her all around the country and even as far as the Holy Land in Israel. She recently began writing blogs for Ascension Press and, as the oldest of nine, she knows the importance of speaking out in order for your voice to be heard. There are a lot of voices in our world and in our minds every day, but the one voice that's never truly leaned into is the voice of God. His voice can only be heard when we chose to take the time to listen to Him- and He often speaks to us through music. She hopes that we can all join voices together in praise and be attentive to the presence of God through her gifts of music.
